The message in today's Gospel passage is relatively short. Jesus tells his disciples that, "Christ would suffer and rise from the dead on the third day and that repentance, for the forgiveness of sins would be preached in his name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem."

However, Luke does not start this passage with this message from Jesus to his disciples. In fact, we only find Jesus' message to his apostles at the very end of today's reading. Instead, Luke begins with the interesting detail that the apostles were initially terrified, since they thought that Jesus was a ghost. Since Jesus obviously knew what his disciples were thinking, why didn't he simply tell his apostles that they were wrong and proceed with the message? It certainly would have been faster.

I believe that the reason for Jesus' response to his disciple's fear has much to teach us. Jesus realized that his disciple's fear would have prevented them from understanding his message. Jesus knew that he first had to convince his disciples that he was not a ghost. Words ONLY would never have convinced them. Therefore, Jesus told his disciples to touch him and to bring him some food to eat. Once his disciples were convinced that Jesus was flesh and blood and not a ghost, he could tell them, "Christ would suffer and rise from the dead on the third day ..."

Today, Jesus also tells us that, "...repentance, for the forgiveness of sins would be preached in his name to all the nations..." However, sometimes this very simple yet profound message of God's love can fall on "deaf ears." Very often, we, like Jesus' first disciples, can be "terrified," and this fear may interfere with our understanding Jesus' message of repentance and forgiveness. Perhaps, this "fear" may be concern over our job, or health. The actual form of this "fear" doesn't really matter. What matters is that our fears can hinder our understanding of and believing in Jesus' message. Sometimes, we too, like Jesus' first disciples, need to be reassured before Jesus' message of repentance and forgiveness can sink in.

“Lord, when did we see You... in prison?” Matthew 25:39

“Please, don’t give up on them.”- A former inmate speaking to a jail ministry on behalf of her incarcerated friends

We have many times heard Jesus speak about “giving liberty to captives” (Luke 4:18), and we are always deeply touched by His compassion upon the crucified thief who asked Jesus to remember him as he entered into His Kingdom. Yet, we might ask ourselves how often our own outreach concerns extend to our incarcerated brothers and sisters and their families. Are we aware of the conditions in jails and prisons in our society?

America’s rate of incarceration is great than any other nation’s in the world: although our country has 5% of the world’s population, it has 25% of its prisoners. Sentence length and time served are much longer in the US than elsewhere, and include more solitary confinement, less rehabilitations, and poor re-entry assistance. The levels of Covid-19 in many of our prisons promoted one NYC inmate to remark, “It’s...like we aren’t even human.” A crime data expert at the Brennan Center for Justice recently observed, “It is really a system that sets people up for failure.” (America, August 2020)

As we continue to struggle with our own confinements during the pandemic, let us deepen our understanding of the sufferings of our incarcerated sisters and brother and pray to know how we can best care for them. In the coming weeks of this Easter Season, our Diocesan Public Policy Committee will be providing further information and assistance to parishes in these efforts.

April is recognized as Child Abuse Prevention Month. Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) recognize these 10 types of trauma: physical, sexual, emotional or verbal abuse, or witnessing abuse or violence, or living with someone who had been incarcerated, or with mental illness or a substance abuse problem, or even lived through the separation and divorce of parents, as predictors of physical, behavioral and social illness. These "hurts" don't go away by themselves. Be a champion for yourself (if you endured any of those hurts by asking for help) or children, youth and vulnerable adults by learning how to Create A Safe Environment. CASE training is available anytime. Contact Patty to learn more.
