Good Shepherd Sunday

This middle Sunday of Easter season is traditionally celebrated as Good Shepherd Sunday. And Jesus is the Good Shepherd. He laid down His life for His flock, that is us, the church. We lift up this particular image of Jesus and the way of thinking about God's care for us. In Psalm 23 we hear its deeply comforting words. It says: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. In verdant pastures He gives me repose; beside restful waters he leads me; He refreshes my soul. He guides me in right paths for His name's sake. Even though I walk in the dark valley I fear no evil; for you are at my side with your rod and your staff that give me courage." By this Psalm 23, we are reminded that Jesus not only protects us in our darkest hour but that He freely laid down His life for us. What greater love can be imagined?

The life of the shepherd, in biblical times, was one of personal self-giving and sacrifice. His work was that of watchful care and closeness to the flock. In Palestine the shepherd brought the sheep into the sheepfold every night. It was a circular stone wall with an opening or door where the sheep entered. Once the sheep were inside for the night the shepherd slept in that opening or door all night. The sheep could not get out without stepping over the shepherd's body which meant they would not get out at all during the night. Jesus is the gate and anyone who enters through Him will be safe and will go freely in and out and be sure of finding pasture. Others steal and kill and destroy but Jesus is the Good Shepherd.

And also the shepherd of the flock who grows up with the flock and stays with the same flock all his life. He knows each and every sheep in the flock individually. He calls each one by name and could tell you the personal story of each one of the sheep, when and where it was born, the problems it has had in life, its personal characteristics, etc. He attends to the individual needs of each and every one of them. He knows which ones are likely to fall behind after a long walk and he would carry them in his arms. He knows which ones were likely to stray from the flock and he would keep an eye on them when they came to dangerous places. He knows which ones are pregnant and need special food. When attacked by wolves or thieves he would risk his life and fight to defend his flock. He is the good shepherd who lays down his life for his sheep. Jesus is the Good Shepherd who knows each one of us and our personal stories and laid down His life for us.

Jesus invites us to share in the work of caring for the flock in our own little ways. But he also calls some people from among us to a life-long commitment to the work of shepherding the flock of God. These people are called to share more closely than the rest of the believers in the life and work of Jesus the Good Shepherd. If today you should hear God's voice calling you to this way of life, harden not your hearts. If you do not hear God calling you to this way of life, then do everything in your power to encourage those who are called to it and who struggle even with faltering steps to follow the footsteps of Jesus the good shepherd.

Who are the shepherds? In the political order; the president, governors, mayors, barangay captains, cabinet members, department heads, etc. are shepherds. In the family and educational order; the parents, guardians, professors, class instructors, teachers, supervisors, etc. are shepherds. In the ecclesiastical order; the bishops, parish priests, deacons, chaplains, religious education directors, etc. are the shepherds in their own capacity. In short, this Sunday is for anyone who is the head or leader of any group or undertaking.

HOLY HOUR

“Lord, when did we see You... in prison?”
Matthew 25:39

Our Diocesan Public Policy Committee continues to ask Catholics to learn about and speak out for more humane conditions for incarcerated people. In New York State, even as the overall prison population has declined, the percentage of older incarcerated people has increased. One in four are 50 or older. The vast majority are Black and brown people, highlighting the racial bias in the system. Research shows older people, especially those who were convicted of serious crimes, have the lowest reincarceration rates of any age cohort, posing little to no risk.

We are asking for your support of two bills that would give more prisoners the opportunity to be released on parole. The Fair and Timely Parole (S.1415/A.4231) bill would mandate that prisoners who've served their terms be granted parole unless they pose a clear risk of violating the law. It would give people a chance to be assessed for parole on the reforms they've made to their characters, and not just on their past crimes. The Elder Parole (S.15/A.3475) bill allows people in New York State prison aged 55 and older who have served 15 or more consecutive years to be considered for parole, regardless of their crime or sentence. Please call your Assembly member and State Senator and ask them to support these bills:

New Yorkers should be encouraged by the incredible progress they have made to decrease the infection rate and to get vaccinated. More than half of New York's adults have received at least one dose. Thanks to your hard work, we are continuing to open up even more of our economy. On April 26, movie theater capacity will increase to 33 percent. Low-risk indoor and outdoor arts and entertainment—including museums, aquariums, zoos and botanical gardens—will increase to 50 percent capacity also beginning April 26. Still, this should not be taken as a reason to let our guard down. On the contrary, we should all remain vigilant and continue to practice the behaviors we know work to stop COVID in its tracks—wear a mask, wash hands, social distance but also get vaccinated as soon as you can.

April is recognized as Child Abuse Prevention Month. Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) recognize these 10 types of trauma: physical, sexual, emotional or verbal abuse, or witnessing abuse or violence, or living with someone who had been incarcerated, or with mental illness or a substance abuse problem, or even lived through the separation and divorce of parents, as predictors of physical, behavioral and social illness. These "hurts" don't go away by themselves. Be a champion for yourself (if you endured any of those hurts by asking for help) or children, youth and vulnerable adults by learning how to Create A Safe Environment. Conducting experiments is part of the scientific process. Teens, especially, are likely to test limits. Today's legalized recreational marijuana is "ultrapotent." What will it do to developing brains? Bodies? Are our communities ready for more social problems that result from addictive substances?

If you are concerned about this, would you be willing to share a short, factual, easy-to-read presentation created by the Yates Substance Abuse Coalition (YSAC) with others, especially town boards as they consider zoning for these establishments? If yes, please go to YSAC's website, <https://yatessac.weebly.com/> and click on contact. Thank you.
